S. naval academy he was attached to theloop Portsmouth, and later to the frigate St. Lawrence. He saw active service during the civil war, and from 1866 to 1882 he commanded several vessels in the South Atlantic squadron. He was attached to the Norfolk navy-yard in 1883, and was at the Brooklyn navy-yard from October, 1884, tol886, inclusive and during the first part of that time was in command. From October, 1889, to July, 1891, he was supervisor of New York harbor, when he became commandant of the League island navy-yard, at Philadelphia. He was commissioned as commodore in June, 1893, and rear-admiral in March, 1894. He was then placed in command of the European station, a place which he retained until November, 1895, when ordered home. His next assignment did not come till June, 1896, when he was given command of the Mare island navy-yard, where he remained until prevented from further service by the illness and the operation which resulted in his death. He was retired in July, 1898, but was to have continued his command until the termination of the war permitted his relief by an officer on the active list. He was at his retirement the senior ranking officer of the navy. Admiral Kirkland s name was brought into prominence at the time of his detachment from the European squadron in October, 1895. Dissatisfaction was first caused by the action of the admiral...
