

Looking Backwards (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By William H Mackey

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Looking Backwards When I was about three miles from home, I heard some one call, Halloo. I looked about but could see no one. Soon the call was repeated, followed by my name. I then saw a man s head sticking out of the bushes near me, and upon investigation found it was my partner, James Comstock,6 a free state man who was too outspoken regarding his abolition views. A pro slavery military company had been organized in Easton during our absence, headed by Capt. Marsh Comstock, a citizen of the town, and my partner had been run out of Easton the night before - Saturday night - and was in hiding. He told me it was worth my life to go on to town; that I was pro scribed. I made light of his warning, but he insisted that I join him in the brush. As I was about to continue my journey, he called my attention to a party on horseback on the brow of a hill at some distance, and said that was the party that...
