PSYCHOLOGICAL BULLETIN, 1904, VOL. 16 (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Psychological Bulletin, 1904, Vol. 16 The work of the year illuminates the statement of Chiappelli that the object of philosophy is not a stable entity but a progressive synthesis, a vast integration of the sciences, from the numbers of the Pythagoreans to the elan vital of Bergson (5). Thus Alexander describes Plato s cosmological speculations from the humanistic point of view, and points out the importance of the Platonic tradition in the idea of an orderly and comprehensive system of the universe (1), while Robin shows that besides the teleological physics of Plato there is a mechanical side, even the Demiurge, as servant of the elements, coming under mechanical causation (17). So, too, Aristotle s other logic contains not only the characteristics of the traditional system, but also those further meanings which have been introduced into the science under the new logic (19). And the same holds true of the Middle Ages, the philosophical programme of the University of Paris being closely affiliated with a classification of human knowledge which was accepted by all the scholars of the thirteenth century, its sociological value lying in its satisfaction of the international aspirations of the times for one science, one system and one religious faith (6). In modern philosophy, likewise, the theoretical and the applied are to be found conjoined in those speculations of Descartes connected with such varied subjects as optics, colors, the circulation of the blood, the refraction of light, and the weight of the air (13).
