Williams then paid Bott 100, and Bott undertook to sell and convey the slave to him. The said Frank returned with Williams to Stockbridge, and continued in his service seven years, and paid him 30 for the other three years of the ten years before mentioned; which sum he Stockbridge Vs. West Stockbridqe. paid out of his wages and bounty given him as a soldier in the army of the United States. The defendants objected to the admission of the said bill of sale in evidence, because its execution was not proved by the subscribing witnesses; and also because it did not appear that Bott had any right or authority to sell and convey...
