Excerpt: .From the province of the Omaguas they took for slaves by force of arms more than 100 individuals, and these, except about two, were all Christians. Upon this news I dispatched, on the 24th January, the said Father Bollarte to Quito, that he might, as eye witness, report upon these acts of violence to the Royal Audiencia, and ask for some relief. This day, 12th February, there arrived at this La Laguna the Lieutenant from Bor-a, to confer about the measures to be taken against the Portuguese, and he resolved to come down after Easter to Omaguas with some soldiers and Indians of the most reliable character. On the 11th March Father Pedro Servela came up to La Laguna to recover from the troubles and fatigues he suffered while among the Omaguas. He brought me a letter from Father Xavier Maloves, a Bohemian by nation, missionary of Para, to whom I had written from Yurimaguas, on my return from Quito, to approach the Governor of that State that he might prohibit the violent outbreak of his people; he replied that he had taken steps, but had heard from the Governor's mouth these words: If those Missions belong to King Charles III, everything will be settled peaceably, but if they belong to the party of the Gavachos/ let us extend our lands as far as possible. While awaiting a reply from Quito, I went to visit the villages up-stream, where I remained for some...
